

What are the symptoms?

Should your child or someone they live with show any of these symptoms, a test should be booked.

The pupil should remain at home until they receive the results and the school should be informed immediately of the result of the test.

- A high temperature
- A new and continuous cough
- A loss or change to your sense of smell and taste

Isolation Guidance:

Your child/you need to self-isolate if you have been in close contact with someone who tests positive for coronavirus or if anyone in the household develops symptoms of coronavirus.

If someone tests negative, if they feel well and no longer have symptoms similar to coronavirus (COVID-19), they can stop self-isolating. They could still have another virus, such as a cold or flu – in which case it is still best to avoid contact with other people until they are better. Other members of their household can stop self-isolating.

What will the school do if a pupil or staff member develops Coronavirus?

- The school continues to follow guidance and maintains optimum safety in school in the form of year group bubble and other restrictions/procedures in place. During a recent spot-check telephone call, the school was commended by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) for our stringent measures in place and no recommendations for improvement were given.
- The school must inform Public Health England (PHE)
- PHE will inform the school of the next steps, making an informed decision by asking the school a series of risk assessment based questions.
- PHE will then advise the school about what subsequent action it should take (i.e. close, partially close, etc.). Parents/Carers will be informed of the decision if this impacts on pupil attendance.
